

AIBA TECHNICAL AND COMPETITION RULES

Transitional Provisions

INTRODUCTION

On 13 December 2020, AIBA has adopted a new Constitution. This resulted in the adoption by the Board of Organisational Regulations on 22 January 2021, defining, amongst other the composition, organisation and roles of the committees established by the Board in accordance with article 29.1 (l) of the Constitution. Such committees will be appointed in a near future and will assist AIBA in revising and improving the Technical and Competition Rules. The Technical and Competition Rules contain numerous references to bodies and commissions that existed under the former AIBA Statutes. The purpose of these Transitional Provisions is to adapt the Technical and Competition Rules to the new Organisational Regulations for a transitory period that shall expire once new technical and competition rules have been adopted by AIBA.
