

Eyassu
Wossen

PRESIDENT,
AFRICAN BOXING
CONFEDERATION

A Visionary Entrepreneur, Philanthropist, and Inspirational Leader

Eyassu Wossen Berhanu stands as a paradigm of leadership and philanthropy. Raised with a strong emphasis on education, diligence, and integrity, Eyassu has applied these principles across his varied endeavors. While his entrepreneurial ventures have garnered prestigious outcomes, his profound impact as the President of the Ethiopian Boxing Federation remains a focal point of his career. Beyond the realm of sports, Eyassu is a dedicated family man and an active philanthropist, deeply committed to educational initiatives and community development. As he steps into the role of President of the African Boxing Confederation, Eyassu sets his sights on amplifying his local achievements, aiming to make a broader impact that resonates across the continent and beyond.

Background

Eyassu was born on December 2, 1965, in Arbaminch, Ethiopia. His father Wossen Berhanu was a respected high school director from Gondar (the northern part of Ethiopia). His mother Askale Farisa is the daughter of one of the regional kings from Arbaminch (the southern part of Ethiopia). Guided by the principles instilled by his parents, Eyassu's upbringing emphasized on education diligence leadership humility, and honesty from an early age.

Entrepreneurial Ventures

Eyassu Wossen Berhanu's entrepreneurial journey is marked by innovation and a keen focus on diversifying Ethiopia's economic landscape. He initiated his venture with a trailblazing car rental and tour company, significantly boosting Ethiopia's tourism sector. His establishment of Omotic General Trading PLC further demonstrated his acumen, with a focus on importing automotive spare parts and vehicles into Ethiopia. In manufacturing, Eyassu established a steel factory, playing a pivotal role in the country's industrial development.

In the hospitality realm, Eyassu owns and operates several prestigious properties, including Paradise Lodge Arbaminch and Paradise Lodge Turmi, along with the Halala Kella Luxury Resort and numerous popular restaurants in Addis Ababa. These establishments are renowned for offering authentic and memorable experiences to tourists.

Additionally, Eyassu's involvement in agriculture underscores his commitment to sustainable practices. He manages extensive farms, cultivating a variety of crops like bananas, coffee, and vegetables, contributing to both food security and the advancement of sustainable farming in Ethiopia.

Accolades and Recognition

Eyassu's unwavering commitment to sustainability and excellence has earned him numerous accolades from esteemed international entities, including the government of the Federal Democratic Republic of Ethiopia, the United Nations, the African Union, and the United States of America.

Legacy and Inspiration

Eyassu's journey is a testament to the power of vision, hard work, and a commitment to making a positive impact. His legacy continues to inspire Ethiopians and beyond to strive for excellence, contribute to their communities, and create lasting change across multiple sectors.